

Toads

ON HIGH STREET

A SCAVENGER HUNT FOR KIDS OF ALL AGES

About the Toads

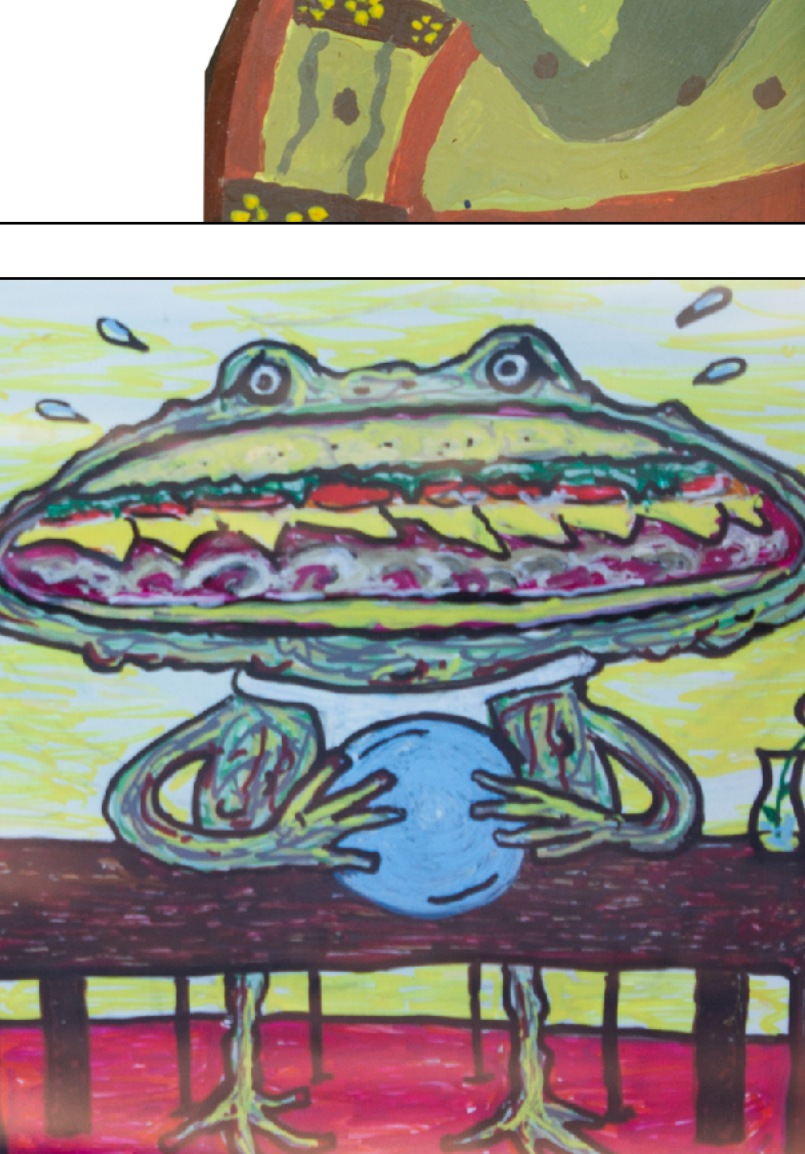

Toads on High Street began in 2011 when the SPPA installed the bronze statue "I've Been Kissed" on the mall in front of the Children's Museum of Virginia. John Joyce, local supporter of the arts, wrote a children's book about a toad named Bufo in honor of this sculpture created by the artist Pokey Park.

And so the High Street Toads were born!

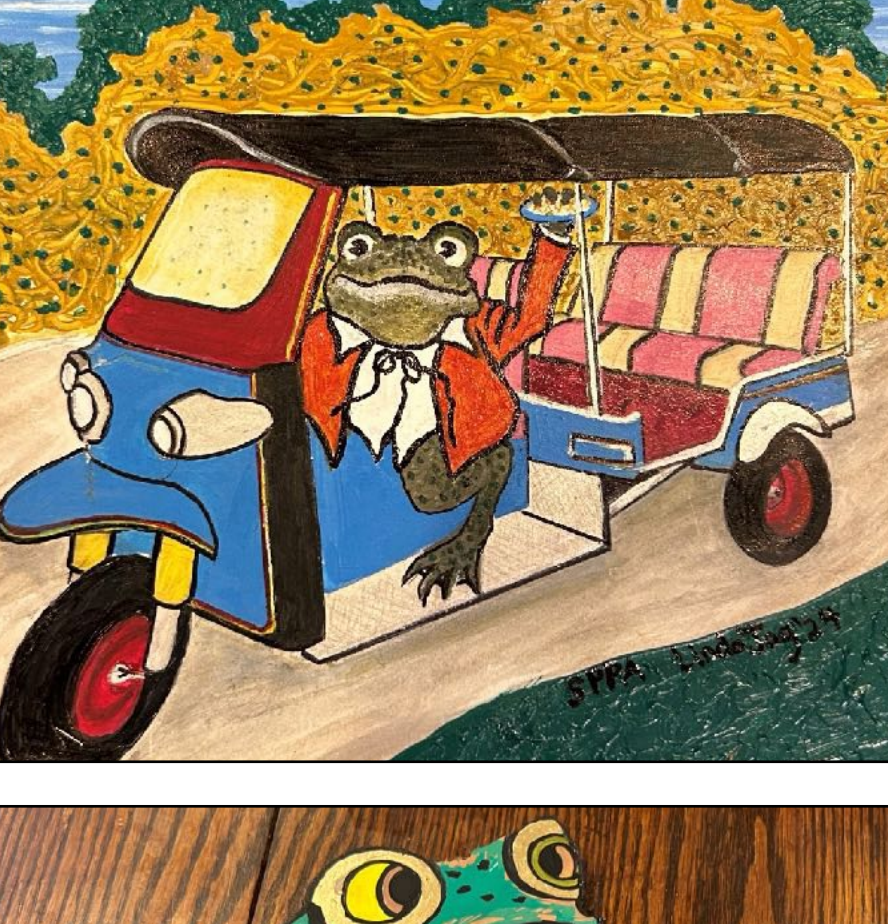

Where to Find the Toads

All of the toads can be found in the windows of shops, restaurants, and other businesses along High Street, from the river to Green Street. Take your time, say hello to the shopkeepers, and enjoy your day finding the toads.

Meet the High Street Toads!

Can you find all 16 Toads?

Hope you had fun on your Toad Quest!

Here's more about us.

Support Portsmouth Public Art

About Us

Support Portsmouth Public Art (SPPA) was formed by volunteers in 2010 with a mission to dedicate to purchase and install public art, to educate citizens, and to create outreach to the neighborhoods in Portsmouth.

SPPA seeks to engage our citizens of all ages to participate in the process of creating and enjoying public art. We appreciate your support.

Learn More

SPPA.ORG

S.P.P.A.
P.O. Box 232
Portsmouth, Virginia 23705

SPPA is a 501(c3) non-profit organization.

SPPA recognizes and thanks the following artists for their contribution to the Toads on High Street program: Ellen Bible, Stephen Grunnet, Rebecca Myers, Dawn Richeard, Ben & Carolyn Riley, David Wray, Linda Jaglowski, and James Pierce.

DONATIONS APPRECIATED